Book your next Holland America cruise on board and receive

- Up to $200USD per person Shipboard Credit*
- Reduced deposit
- Greater availability now, rather than waiting until you get home

Limited time — on board only — reduced deposit*

Book on board and reserve your next cruise at a reduced deposit. No additional deposits will be due until the time of final payment. Should you need to cancel your reservation, your reduced deposit can be applied to another Holland America Line cruise any time before it expires, so long as you cancel before cancellation fees apply. This also applies to euro and British pound sterling bookings made and deposited with a Future Cruise Deposit on board one of our ships, as long as the cruise is cancelled at least 90 days prior to departure.

For bookings not made while on board, standard euro (20%) and British pound sterling (15%) cancellation fees will apply if the booking is cancelled within the published cancellation period; however, up until 90 days prior to departure (120 days for Grand Voyages) guests may cancel their original booking and apply their deposit or Future Cruise Deposit to a new cruise that is at least 50% of the length of the original booking, without losing their deposit.

Reduced deposit also available in Australian and Canadian dollars, British pound sterling and euro currencies depending on the country where the guests reside. If you choose to take advantage of the Holland America Cancellation Protection Plan, for U.S. dollars, Canadian dollars, or Australian dollar bookings, this payment will be due prior to the cancellation period. For euro and British pound sterling bookings, payment will be due at the time of booking.
